

Storrs Hall Wine List

Storrs Hall has always been well known for the quality of its cuisine and wine list. Today we are continuing this tradition and hope to offer an exciting range of classic and emerging wines to meet all tastes. We are constantly seeking out unusual and mature wines, resulting in a highly dynamic list. Often the most characterful wines at the ideal state of maturity are available only in small quantities.

If you would like to request a particular wine (even if it is not listed), would like a wine decanted in advance or would like to discuss your food and wine choices, please ask.

Where's the cork?

Great wines deserve a great cap, which is why, a proportion of our wines are sealed with a screw cap which:

1. Eliminates cork taint, which causes wine to have a musty smell and taste.
2. Virtually eliminates all risk of oxidation, which dulls the wine.
3. Helps the wine age by preserving its freshness, aromatic and varietal character.

The wine cellars at Storrs Hall are always open for viewing, whether just to look around or if you would like to book for a group tasting on wines, Champagnes or local traditional beers.

Champagne

Non-Vintage Champagne

Blended from wines of several years to achieve a constant "style de maison". This blend will depend on the art and history behind the house and its Chef du Caves. Many non-vintage Champagnes are a blend of thirty or forty different wines.

Bin 1.	Laurent Perrier, Brut	£49.50
Bin 2.	Pol Roger, White Foil	£57.00
Bin 3.	Louis Roederer, Brut Premier	£55.50
Bin 4.	Taittinger, Brut Reserve	£60.00
Bin 5.	Bollinger, Special Cuvée	£67.50
Bin 230.	Canard Duchène, Non Vintage	£42.50

Non-Vintage Demi-Sec Champagne

More sugar is added to Demi-sec Champagne wines than to brut Champagne Wines, giving them a sweet taste, very popular during the 18th Century. As a result they are a suitable match for many desserts.

Bin 8.	Veuve Clicquot Ponsardin, White Label	£63.50
---------------	--	---------------

Rosé Champagne

Rosé Champagne can be made in one of two ways: First by maceration of black grapes during pressing, so that the colour leeches out from the skins or by adding a small proportion of the red wine from the Champagne region to give the wine a rose tint. The former method (de saignée) is more expensive and difficult to control, but many would say produces the better Champagne.

Bin 9.	Taittinger, Prestige Rosé, Non Vintage	£67.50
Bin 10.	Bollinger, Rosé, Non Vintage	£87.50
Bin 11.	Laurent Perrier, Cuvée Rosé, Non Vintage	£72.50

Vintage Champagne

Vintage Champagne is a blend of wines from a particular year, when the quality of the harvest was sufficient to declare a "Vintage". Obviously, not every year is a vintage year, but the vintage is left to the individual houses themselves to declare. Therefore, some houses declare a vintage Champagne in a year where others did not feel the quality justified it.

Bin 13.	Taittinger, Brut, 2000	£76.50
Bin 14.	Bollinger, Grande Année, 1999	£105.00

Prestige Champagne

Most Champagne houses produce a special bottle in a vintage year and these are normally deemed to be "Prestige or Deluxe cuvées". Probably the most famous of these is Moët's Cuvée Dom Pérignon. In fact Moët invented the Cuvée Prestige with Dom Pérignon in 1921. Prestige cuvées represent the pinnacle of a house's achievement and can be a vintage or occasionally a blend of vintages.

Bin 16.	Taittinger, Comtes de Champagne, Blanc de Blancs, 1998	£197.50
Bin 17.	Dom Pérignon, 2000	£163.50
Bin 19.	Dom Pérignon, 1999	Magnum £325.00
Bin 20.	Krug Grande Cuvée,	£175.00
Bin 21.	Louis Roederer Cristal, 2002	£235.00

Sparkling Wines

Sparkling wines from around the world continue to surprise and impress us with exciting new styles and flavours and many producers are giving the Champenois a real run for their money. The sheer diversity of producers world-wide, ensures competition is fierce and quality is high. Dedicated winemakers strive to combine ripe fruit flavours and traditional methods, the results demonstrate how complex and vibrant these wines can be.

Spain

Bin 22.	Duc de Foix, Rosé Cava, Non Vintage	£22.50

Bordeaux - Red

Médoc and Haut Médoc

On the left bank of the Garonne river and the Gironde estuary.
The Médoc is synonymous with red wines dominated by Cabernet Sauvignon, which thrives on the gravely soil.

Bin 32.	Château La Tour St Bonnet, 2000/5	£37.50
Bin 33.	Château Cantemerle, 5 ème Cru, 1998	£39.50

St. Julien

With these wines you will find a deep velvety colour, a rich cedar, berry fruit bouquet and an intense, lingering flavour. Owing to the ripeness of fruit, they can be consumed at 4-5 years old, but the depth of flavour and fine tannins allow them to develop slowly over the years.

Bin 35.	Château Teynac, 2002	£37.50
Bin 36.	Château Leoville Barton, 2 ème Cru, 1994	£79.50
Bin 37.	Château Beychevelle, 4 ème Cru, 1996	£112.50

Margaux

Margaux wines have finesse and elegance to which can be added a brilliant deep colour, complexity of aromas and capacity for ageing. While the wines can be appreciated at 4-5 years, their true complexity does not show until their second decade.

Bin 40.	Château Rauzan Gassies, 2 ème Cru, 1988	£73.50
Bin 41.	Château Dauzac, Cru Classe, 1999	£59.00
Bin 42.	Château Cantenac Brown, 3 ème Cru, 2001	£68.00

St. Emilion

Each has its own special personality, full of subtle nuances, from the most humble, but nevertheless delicious wines, to the most prestigious growths, which can age for decades. Young wines have aromas of blackcurrant, raspberry, and blackberry, as well as vanilla and fresh toast. Older wines have a bouquet of leather or venison.

Bin 45.	Château Marquis de Mons, Grand Cru, 2005	£36.00
Bin 48.	Château Les Vieilles Pierres, 2006	£24.50

Pauillac

Pauillac is considered to be the most classic Médoc wine, generally austere when young, but with an intense blackcurrant fruit flavour that can take 6-10 years to develop and can last 20-30 years in the best vintages.

Bin 49.	Pauillac AC, Baron Nathaniel de Rothschild, 2004	£43.50
Bin 50.	Château Clerc Millon, 5<sup>ème</sup> Cru, 1988	£87.50
Bin 54.	Château Latour, 1<sup>ème</sup> Cru, 1988	£355.00

St. Estèphe

The largest of the Médoc communal appellations. The wines are robust in colour, have fine ageing potential and are often more sturdy than those of the southern Médoc.

Bin 55.	Château Haut-Beausejour, Cru Bourgeois, 2005/6	£42.50
Bin 56.	Château De Pez, Cru Bourgeois, 1998/2003/5	£64.50
Bin 58.	Château Meyney, Cru Bourgeois, 1996	£68.00

Graves

The Graves appellation begin on the very outskirts of Bordeaux and stretch fifty kilometres south on the left bank of the Garonne, from Léognan to the far side of Langon. The vineyards bear a close resemblance to the Médoc and the gravelly soil (hence the name Graves) is also much the same.

Bin 60.	Château Torte des Graves, 2003	£31.50
Bin 61.	Domaine De Chevalier, 2000 - Pessac	£61.50

Bordeaux Reds

Bordeaux and Bordeaux Supérieur are produced throughout the Bordeaux region. This is the largest of the families and the diverse personality of these wines depends on the different soils and growing conditions.

Bin 62.	Château Lezongars, 1<sup>er</sup> Cotes de Bordeaux, 2002	£31.50
Bin 63.	Château La Rose du Pin, 2004/5	£23.50
Bin 64.	Château Roques Rouges, 1<sup>er</sup> Cotes de Bordeaux, 2005	£27.50

Burgundy - Red

Beaujolais

It's well worth the wait if you leave them in the bottle for a few years. Connoisseurs wait for the spring following the harvest before tasting them. They wait for the Beaujolais Crus to have "done their Easter duty" (fait leurs Pâques) as the winemakers say. This means that the Crus have reached maturity and can be appreciated at their full value.

Bin 65.	Morgon, Emile Chandesais, 2006/7	£24.50
Bin 66.	Fleurie, Michel Picard, 2007	£31.50
Bin 67.	Brouilly, Cuvée Georges Fessy, Henry Fessy, 2008	£28.50
Bin 68.	Moulin à Vent, Cuvée Clothilde, Henry Fessy, 2007	£31.50

Mâconnais/Chalonnais

Mâconnais vineyards mark the southern border of Burgundy. They stretch over 35 kilometres between Sennecy-le-Grand and Saint-Vérand, and 10 kilometres wide, delimited to the west by the Grosne Valley and to the East by the Saône valley.

Bin 70.	Givry, Louis Latour, 2005/7	£26.50

Côte de Beaune

Red Côte de Beaune are noticeable for their aroma and their warm bouquet. They have a tendency to a slightly lighter body and a quicker maturation than the Côte de Nuits.

Bin 71.	Côte De Beaune Villages, Louis Latour, 2005	£32.50
Bin 72.	Beaune, 1 er Cru Cent Vignes Château La Loyere, Labouré Roi, 2005	£45.00
Bin 73.	Aloxe Corton, 1er Cru, Les Chaillots, Louis Latour, 2001	£48.50

Côte de Nuits

Côte de Nuits is not an appellation but a wine region producing great red wines such as Chambertin, Morey-Saint-Denis, Vosne-Romanée and Nuits Saint-Georges. They are all robust and elegant red wines with an intense and fragrant bouquet.

Bin 76.	Santenay, J Faiveley, 2001/4	£36.50
Bin 77.	Nuits-St. Georges, Emile Chandesais, 2005	£56.00
Bin 78.	Morey-Saint-Denise, J Faiveley, 2000/5	£59.00
Bin 79.	Vosne-Romanée, J Faiveley, 2006	£66.00
Bin 80.	Gevrey-Chambertin, Louis Latour, 2006	£54.50

Burgundy - White

Chablis

Chablis lies at the very northern extreme of Burgundy in the Yonne department, and is one of the high points of white wine in France. No other French region has more 'weather' than Chablis, with hard winters, spring frosts, hail and the odd autumn deluge, it's no easy life growing these grapes.

Bin 83.	Chablis, Labouré Roi, 2008	£32.50
Bin 84.	Chablis, Régnard, 2007	£36.50
Bin 85.	Chablis Grand, Régnard, 2006/7	£49.50

Côte de Beaune

The white wines of Côte de Beaune are straw-yellow, robust, thick and smooth, very dry.

Bin 87.	Puligny Montrachet, Emile Chandesais, 2007	£59.50
Bin 88.	Meursault, Louis Latour, 2005	£47.50
Bin 89.	Corton-Charlemagne, Grand Cru, Louis Latour, 2000	£94.50

Mâconnais/Chalonnais

The Mâconnais lies south of the Côte Chalonnais, north of Beaujolais, and is the most southerly region in Burgundy where the classic Pinot Noir and Chardonnay grapes are to be found. Without doubt the vineyards around Mâcon produce some of the best value Chardonnay in the whole of Burgundy.

Bin 90.	Mâcon Lugny, Les Genièvres, Louis Latour, 2007	£24.50
Bin 91.	Montagny, 1er Cru, Château de Davenay, 2006	£36.50
Bin 92.	Pouilly Fuissé, Louis Latour, 2007/8	£34.50

Alsace - White

The Alsace region enjoys practically the lowest rainfall in France and is blessed with a semi-continental climate. Situated on the sub-Vosgian foothills, the vineyards take maximum advantage of their exposure to the sun. These specific advantages of the Alsace vineyards favours the slow, extended ripening of the grapes, giving wines with very elegant, complex aromas.

Bin 93.	Pinot Blanc, F.E.Trimbach, 2006/7	£28.50
Bin 82.	Riesling, F.E.Trimbach, 2005/7	£32.50
Bin 94.	Pinot Gris Réserve, F.E.Trimbach, 2004/5	£34.50
Bin 95.	Gewürztraminer, Cuvée des Seigneurs de Ribeaupierre, F.T. Trimbach, 2001	£48.50

Loire Valley - White

The Loire Valley is famous for its white wines. None of vineyards use Chardonnay as a main grape variety, however Chenin Blanc and Sauvignon are widely used.

Bin 96.	Muscadet de Sèvre et Maine, Caves de la Nantaise, 2007	£21.00
Bin 97.	Sancerre Les Tuilleries, Michel Redde et Fils, 2007	£39.00
Bin 98.	Pouilly Fumé, de Ladoucette, 2006/7	£44.50
Bin 99.	Pouilly Fumé, Baron De 'L', 2002/5	£86.50

Loire Valley - Rosé

Bin 100.	Sancerre Rosé, Comte Lafond, 2006	£41.00

Rhône Valley - White

Bin 101.	Viognier, Cotes du Rhône, J. Vidal Fleury, 2006/8	£28.00
-----------------	--	---------------

Rhône Valley - Red

Côtes du Rhône is probably the most diverse wine region in France, from the very different full-body red wines of Côte Rôtie in the north to Châteauneuf du Pape.

Bin 102.	Coteaux du Tricastin, Chapoutier, Organic, 2006	£26.50
Bin 103.	Crozes Hermitage, E. Guigal, 2005	£36.50
Bin 104.	Saint-Joseph Deschants, Chapoutier, 2004/5	£36.00
Bin 105.	Gigondas, E. Guigal, 2004/6	£37.00
Bin 106.	Châteauneuf du Pape, E. Guigal, 2003/5	£53.50

Germany - White

Rheingau

Rheingau is Germany's most central wine-growing region and the home of some of the world's oldest wine-growing families. The whole of the Rheingau is one long hillside topped by the thick forests.

Bin 107.	Leitz Rudesheimer Rheingau, Riesling Kabinett, 2007/8	£27.00

Mosel-Saar-Ruwer

From just south of the ancient Roman City of Trier, north of Koblenz, where it empties into the Rhine. The wines of the Mosel and its tributaries, are richly fragrant, pale in colour, lightbodied with a lively, fruity acidity.

Bin 108.	Piesporter Michelsberg, Qba, Drei Könige, 2008	£19.50

Italy - White

Piedmonte

Italian producers have moved rapidly to the forefront of world enology, improving techniques to create wines of undeniable class in every region.

Bin 109. Gavi DOCG, Antario, 2008 £23.50

Campania

The ancient Romans admired Campania Felix as the most felicitous of wine regions, they favoured the vineyards along the coast north of Naples where Falernian, the most treasured wine of the empire, was grown.

Bin 110. Lacryma Christi del Vesuvio, DOC, Terradora, 2007 £26.00

Veneto

The first human settlements of the lagoon and the surrounding areas maintained a simple social structure until the arrival of the Romans in the second century BC who divided the land into parcels of about 4,800 square meters and distributed those tracts among the locals to be cultivated.

Bin 111. Soave Classico DOC, Zenato, 2008 £24.50

Bin 112. Pinot Grigio, Villa Romanti IGT, 2008/9 £19.50

Italy - Red

Piedmonte

Piedmontese uphold their heritage of food and wine with unequalled stanches. Turin was the home of the Savoy dynasty that reigned as Italy's royal family.

Bin 113. Barolo, DOCG, Antario, 2004 £39.50

Veneto

Veneto has three general areas of premium wine production: the western province of Verona; the central hills in the provinces of Vicenza, Padova and Treviso, the eastern plains of the Piave and Tagliamento.

Bin 115. Valpolicella Superiore, DOC, Ripassa, 2006/7 £37.50

Tuscany

Tuscany captures all that is fine with food and wine, while keeping things simple. It is not just about Chianti.

Bin 114. Chianti Classico DOCG, Rocco di Castagnoli, 2006 £31.00

Abruzzo

Bin 116. Montepulciano d'Abruzzo, DOC, San Antonio, 2007 £19.50

Spain - White

Rioja

Bin 117. Marqués de Caceres, DOC, Viti Vinicola, 2008 £19.50

Rueda

Wine has been produced in the Rueda region commercially since the 11th century during the reign of Alfonso XI.

Bin 118. Marqués De Riscal Blanco, 2008 £23.50

Spain - Red

Navarra

Bin 119. Bodegas Ochoa, Tempranillo Crianza, 2006 £27.50

Rioja

Rioja is one of Spain's most well known wine growing regions. In 1635 the Mayor issued a by-law prohibiting carts to be driven along the street adjacent to the bodegas for fear the vibrations may damage the quality of the must.

Bin 120. Marqués de Cáceres, 2005/8 £25.00

Bin 121. Marques de Murrieta, Réserve, 2003/4 £37.50

Bin 122. Valserrano Gran Réserve, Bodega de la Marquesa, 1999/00 £43.50

England - White

England is not the first place you would normally look for wine, however, with the change in climate you can now find some fantastic wines.

Bin 123. Surrey Gold, Denbies Estate Vineyards, Surrey, NV £22.00

Bin 124. Special Release Fumé, Wickham Vineyards, Hampshire, 2008/NV £27.50

England - Red

The stylish tobacco and crushed red berry nose is simply superb. Delicious cherry stone flavoured fruit and fine acidity find excellent harmony, while the mid-palate is lean but by no means hollow.

Bin 125. Row Ash, Wickham Vineyards, Hampshire, NV £28.50

Bin 195. Chapel Down, Pinot Noir, Tenterden Vineyards, Kent, 2005 £32.50

California - White

California

Bin 129. Robert 'Pepi', Pinot Grigio, 2007 £26.50

Dunnigan Hills

Dunnigan Hills, encompassing 89,000 acres of gently rolling hills in Northwest Yolo County has a Mediterranean style climate. These climatic conditions, combined with wonderful air-drainage, make the appellation less frost prone in early spring and favour the grapes with cooler summer days.

Bin 127. R.H. Phillips, 'Night Harvest', Sauvignon Blanc, 2004/5 £23.50

Bin 128. R.H. Philips Toasted Head, Viognier, 2007 £29.50

California - Rosé

Dunnigan Hills

What can be said apart from, what an amazing summer wine, from a fantastic part of the world.

Bin 130. R.H. Phillips, 'Night Harvest', Zinfandel Rosé, 2008 £20.50

California - Red

Dunnigan Hills

All wines made at R.H. Phillips are cold fermented and many of the grapes are actually harvested at night to minimise oxidation and time in the hot sun.

Bin 131. R.H. Phillips, 'Night Harvest', Cabernet Sauvignon, 2005/6 £25.00

Lodi

Not a well known area but the wines are well worth trying from this region.

Bin 132. Ironstone Vineyards, Old Vined Zinfandel, 2007/8 £24.50

Argentina - White

Mendoza

The wine making history of Mendoza dates from 1557 when Spanish immigrants started planting vines. Mendoza province accounts for 70% of the total wine production of Argentina.

Bin 135. Avanti, Chenin/Torrontes, 2008/9	£19.50
Bin 137. Trapiche Melodias, Chardonnay, 2008	£21.50

Argentina - Red

Mendoza

Humidity from the Pacific Ocean is blocked by the Andes, storms from the Atlantic do not reach Mendoza, therefore climate is driven by elevation rather than proximity to the sea.

Bin 138. Avanti, Shiraz/ Malbec, 2009	£19.50
Bin 139. Trapiche Melodias, Malbec, 2007/8	£21.50
Bin 140. Trapiche Melodias, Pinot Noir, 2008	£22.50

Chile - White

Curico Valley

Rainfall here is abundant and the climate cool and humid, creating near-perfect growing conditions for a variety of wine grapes. The soil nearest the mountains produces excellent white wines.

Bin 143. Montes Classic, Sauvignon Blanc, 2008/9 £21.50

Maipo Valley

One of the driest places in Chile. The joint venture of Paul Pontallier of Château Margaux and Bruno Prats of Cos d'Estournel. A New World wine created with Old World Talent.

Bin 144. Cousino Macul, Antiguas Reservas, Chardonnay, 2006/8 £25.00

Bin 145. Cousino Macul, Sauvignon Gris, 2008 £22.50

Bin 146. Causino Macul, Dona Isidora, Riesling, 2007/9 £21.50

Chile - Rosé

Central Valley

Running North to South between the Andes and the coasts, has a mixture of varied soils, rich in both volcanic and glacial deposits.

Bin 147. Santa Digna, Miguel Torres, Cabernet Sauvignon Rosé, 2009 £20.00

Chile - Red

Colchagua Valley

One of the best places on the planet to grow vines and make fine Wines. Having a warm winter climate, often compared to California's Napa Valley. Though cooler in the summer.

Bin 148. Montes Classic, Merlot, 2008 £23.50

Bin 150. Caliterra, Carménère Reserva, 2008 £19.50

Maipo Valley

The valley's low annual rainfall, high temperatures and stony ground may sound inhospitable, but these conditions make the region perfect for growing so-called "noble" wine grapes. As a result, some of Chile's finest Cabernet Sauvignon is produced in the Maipo Valley.

Bin 151. Cousino Macul, Antiguas Réservas, Cabernet Sauvignon, 2007 £24.50

Maule Valley

Bin 152. Lauca, Pinot Noir, 2008 £20.00

South Africa – White

Darling Hills

Wine legislation in the 1970s grouped Groenekloof under the Swartland district umbrella, but local farmers felt short-changed by this association. In 2003, the district of Darling was declared. It was a differentiating nod towards the area's unique terroir and climate.

- Bin 153. Groote Post, Chenin Blanc, 2009 £20.50

Marlborough

Marlborough is the largest wine-growing region in New Zealand. Currently there are more than 9000 hectares of vineyards. Predominant varieties grown are Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Noir. The original grape plantings were on the southern fringes of the plain, but have since spread across the landscape onto the river flats of the Rapaura district, west to the Waihopai and lower Wairau and further south into the Awatere Valley.

Bin 175. Cloudy Bay, Pinot Noir, 2006/7 £46.50

Australia - White

Western Australia

Australia's largest State spans the western third of the continent, although the winemaking regions are almost entirely concentrated in the south-western portion of the State. These regions include the Swan District near the State capital Perth and, further south, the regions of Peel, Blackwood Valley, Great Southern and Margaret River.

- Bin 176. McHenry Hohnen, 3 Amigos, Marsanne/Chardonnay/Rousanne, 2006 - Margaret River £30.00
- Bin 178. McHenry Hohnen, Sauvignon Semillon, 2008 - Margaret River £25.00

South Australia

South Australia is the wine industry's powerhouse State, producing most of the nation's wine and boasting some of the oldest individual vines in the world. The venerable old vines found in South Australia's Barossa Valley and Adelaide Hills, through their isolation, survived the great phylloxera plagues that wiped out the vines of North America and Europe, and somewhat later, devastated Australia's eastern vineyards. Quarantine restrictions were introduced, saving South Australia's vines from phylloxera, and ensuring the State retained its grape growing status.

- Bin 179. Peter Lehmann, Chenin Blanc, 2008 – Barossa Valley £19.50
- Bin 180. Turkey Flat Butchers Block, White, 2004/5 – Barossa Valley £28.50
- Bin 181. Grant Burge Kraft, Sauvignon Blanc, 2008 – Barossa Valley £27.50

New South Wales

New South Wales was the first State in Australia to be colonised by Europeans and subsequently was the first to grow the grapevine. The State, lying on the continent's east coast, boasts an incredibly diverse range of climates from coastal, such as the Shoalhaven Coast region lying south of Sydney, to Alpine, across the top of the Great Dividing Range

- Bin 182. Margan Family Winegrowers, Verdelho, 2008 – Hunter Valley £29.50

A beautiful Demi-Sec Champagne, well suited to be a perfect accompaniment to a wide range of desserts.

Natural Spring Water

Lakeland Willow Waters history dates back to the 12th Century monks of Cartmel Priory. It's unique because it naturally contains traces of Salicin, which is derived from white willow bark. Its secret is its source – a deep underground aquifer - fed over hundreds of years by rainwater which has filtered through layers of white willow bark sediment from the vast forests which once covered the Cartmel Valley in England's picturesque Lake District.
